

Veterinary Education Center of Latvia invites to interactive webinars in veterinary radiology!

Speaker:

Sérgio Guilherme LMV MRCVS ECVDI residency trained veterinary radiologist, Fitzpatrick Referrals, UK

Sérgio graduated with distinction from the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine of the University of Lisbon, Portugal. As part of his veterinary degree, he did a six-month clinical externship at the Animal Medical Center, New York and Cornell University, USA. After two years working in general practice, he did a one year rotating internship at a multidisciplinary referral hospital in the UK. This was followed by a three year ECVDI residency program in Diagnostic Imaging at the Royal Veterinary College, University of London, which he completed in 2009. He then worked at Davies Veterinary Specialists until joining Fitzpatrick Referrals in 2020. He enjoys working across all imaging modalities – Radiography, ultrasound, CT and MRI. He is an author of peer-reviewed original articles and also enjoys teaching and lecturing, being a regular speaker in courses and conferences both in Europe and Asia.

Dates and Topics:

Thursday, 13th May 18:00- 19:30 GMT +2 (Latvia time)	Webinar 1 “Abnormal lungs, but why? Practical interpretation of lung disease based in X-rays”
Wednesday, 19th May 18:00- 19:30 GMT +2 (Latvia time)	Webinar 2 “Thoracic X-rays and the cardiac patient - Why, when and what”

Both webinars will be recorded and recordings will be available to all registered participants to watch till July 1st, 2021.!

Description:

You're dealing with a dyspnoeic dog and take thoracic X-rays? Do you want to understand what those fuzzy looking lungs really mean? Do you want to be able to know if the dog is dyspnoeic due to lung or heart disease based on the X-rays? The practical discussion we'll do in these two webinars will help you feel more confident when dealing with cases that need thoracic imaging. We'll be looking at many clinical cases with common conditions similar to the ones you may come across in the practice where you work.

Language: English!

BOTH WEBINARS WILL BE RECORDED AND PARTICIPANTS WILL RECEIVE RECORDING AND ACCESS TO VIEW IT TILL 01.07.2021.
